

COUGAR CYNOSURE

82

January 2010

The 50th Anniversary high school yearbook collection includes the 1982 and 1983 editions of the Carrollton Middle School yearbook, the Cougar Cynosure.

These two yearbooks are included with the high school collection as they reflect on a time in Carrollton High School's history when the Middle School was located within the high school building.

Beginning in the 1981-82 school year, Carrollton Middle School (which consisted of fifth through eighth grade) was closed, although by 1984 the building was used for basketball games, bingo, and the Administration "Central" Office.

During this time, the fifth and sixth grades were located in the present-day Carrollton Elementary School building, while seventh and eighth grades were moved to the Carrollton High School building, all while maintaining a separate Middle School identity.

In 1982 and 1983, Carrollton Middle School continued to issue a separate yearbook, the Cougar Cynosure.

The middle school yearbook's name was selected from a school contest in about 1979. The winning entry, which was submitted by Cheryl Ellsworth, consists of Cougar, which was the Middle School mascot at the time (until midway through the 1993-94 school year) and Cynosure, which means "A bright, shining star."

The 1983 edition of the Cynosure was to be its final edition. In 1984 and 1985, the seventh and eighth grade students were included in the high school's Novera. When the Middle School reopened in the fall of 1985, it regained its own yearbook, which was no longer named for reasons that have been lost to history
